MGMI PROMOTES THE CAUSE OF MINERAL INDUSTRY SINCE 1906

Preamble

The Asian Mining Congress (AMC) and International Mining Exhibition (IME), held concurrently under the aegis of The Mining, Geological & Metallurgical Institute of India (MGMI), are flagship international events. The 9th AMC and IME, in this sequel, were earlier scheduled in the month of February 2022, in Kolkata. However, it could not be held at that time due to the then prevailing pandemic situation. In view of the improved situation, the 9th Asian Mining Congress (AMC) & International Mining Exhibition (IME), will now be held during 04th - 07th April 2022 in Kolkata (WB), India. The 9th AMC will be held at Biswa Bangla Convention Centre during 04th - 05th April 2022 and IME at Eco Park from 04th - 07th April, 2022.

In earlier editions, there were very good responses worldwide, with participation of around 600 delegates from India and abroad. This time too, it is expected that these international events will be well attended by a good number of national and international participants, as it has already drawn great interests globally.

During 9th AMC, it has also been planned to organize the Stakeholders' Meet on Capacity Assessment under the guidance of the Ministry of Coal (MoC) on 05th April, 2022 - post lunch Session.

In this meet CEOs from Coal India Limited (CIL) and its subsidiaries, Singareni Coal Companies Limited (SCCL), Neyveli Lignite Corporation (NLC) and several government and private coal producing companies, as well as NTPC & SAIL, and CEOs of different Coal Mining Equipment manufacturers, are being invited to participate.

In light of the above, it is believed that the 9th AMC will provide a suitable platform to promote and advance techno-scientific cooperation towards national and international progress in the areas of mineral production, in addition to the development of new opportunities of sustainable business that will benefit both Asian and global communities.

India : The Host Country

India is a wonderful country of great diversity with a civilization more than 5000 years old, geographically extending from the snowcapped Himalayas in the North to the luxuriant coconut groves of the Coromandel and Malabar Coasts in the South; from the desolate deserts in the west to the lush green Gangetic plains in the east. The glories of the past stand side by side with wonders of modern science and engineering.

Kolkata: The Host City

Kolkata, a vibrant modern metropolis of 10 million plus population, is the gateway to Eastern and Northeastern states of India. The city is well connected by international and domestic airlines and also by rail network with the rest of the country. Kolkata is appropriately regarded as the cultural capital of India and has a comfortable climate in the month of April when the maximum day temperature is around 35°C and it drops down to around 25°C in the night. However, both venues are air-conditioned.

Kolkata is also aptly called the Mining Capital of India too, because of its proximity to major coalfields and metal mining belts. Headquarters of Coal India Limited, Geological Survey of India, Hindustan Copper Limited, etc., are also located in Kolkata. Academic and Research Institutes on Earth Sciences/Mining like Indian Institute of Technology (IIT-ISM) Dhanbad, Indian Institute of Engineering Science and Technology (IIST), Shibpur, Indian Institute of Technology (IIT) Kharagpur, CSIR-Central Institute of Mining and Fuel Research (CSIR-CIMFR), Dhanbad, Directorate General of Mines Safety (DGMS), Dhanbad, etc., are all located within a radius of 250 km distance from Kolkata.

Technical Sessions of the Congress will be held in the Biswa Bangla Convention Centre, New Town, Kolkata-700156 (West Bengal), India, in close proximity to the International Airport Kolkata (CCU).
